

An exploratory workshop at SOL conference 2011, Balatonfüred, Hungary

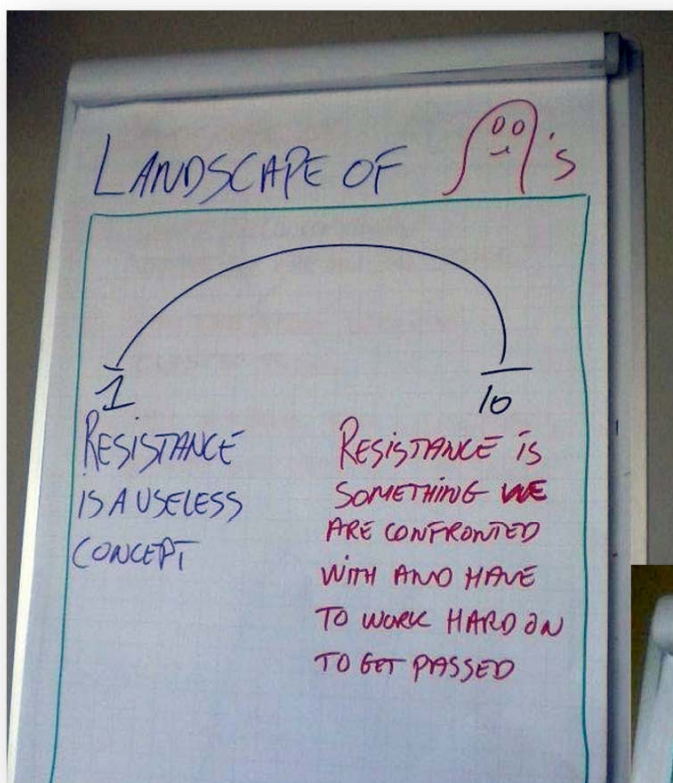

“Joint insights and reflections on the concept of resistance and ideas on how to approach this.

How do we benefit from a Solution Focused approach in a world where resistances seems to be ghosts “popping up” without obvious meaning for a helpful process?

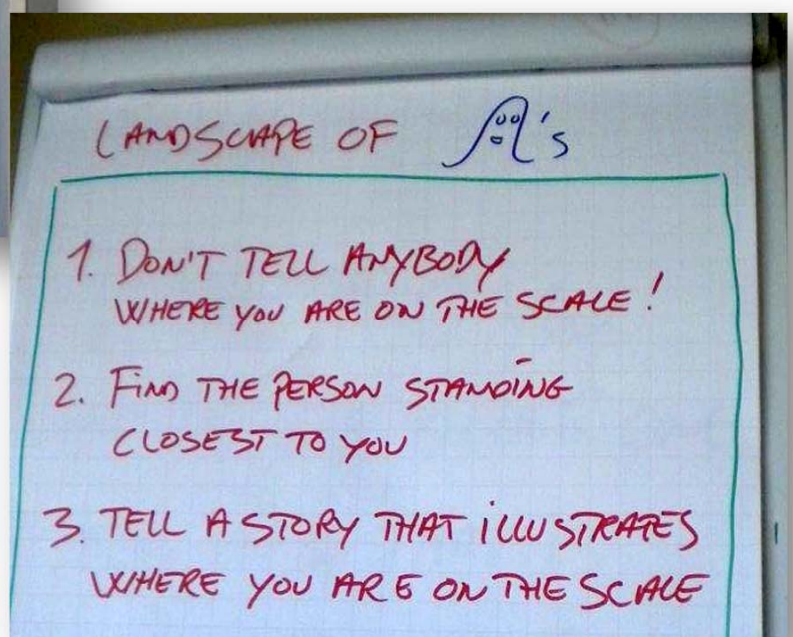

How do we discover these ghosts and their treasures so that we can step aside and let them be forward moving forces?”

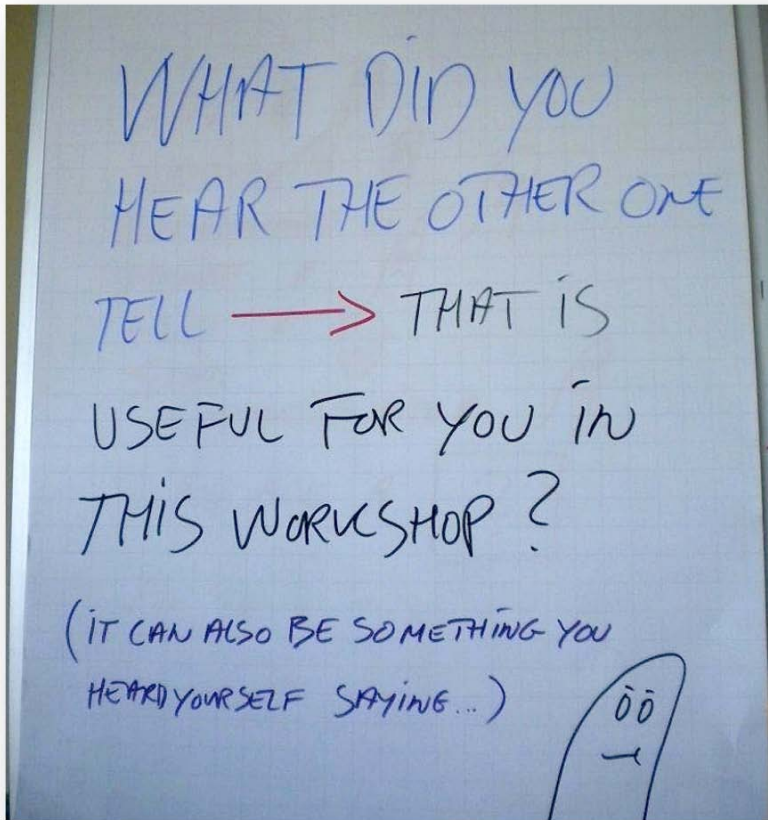

1. The invisible (ghost) scale – establishing context

2. Sharing experience – what’s already clear?

3. Personal reflections

4. The toilet-paper exercise – training presence

5. Sharing personal insights from workshop
